Conflict Resolution

It can be hard to know what to do when a conflict arises. In the following skit, Allison and Michael get into a conflict. Grab a partner and pick a part to read to see what happens.

Allison: Hi Michael! Do you want to play tag with me at recess?

Michael: No! Tag is dumb. I want to draw chalk.

Allison: Hey! That's not very nice! I think chalk is dumb too!

Michael: FINE! Then maybe we should not play together at all!

Allison: FINE!

**Both Allison and Michael walk away to play alone.**

Michael: **walking back to Allison** Allison, I'm really sorry, what I said was mean.

Allison: I'm really sorry too. I should not have said that chalk is dumb.

Michael: Hey! I have an idea! How about we play tag for the first part of recess and switch to chalk for the second part of recess.

Allison: I like that idea! Let's go!
